Five & Six Figure Sight-Unseen Bids High Expectations For 2003 Start With FUN

The new year is starting out the way the last year finished — with strong demand. Dealers tell us that the "market is great." Demand remains very strong because dealers continue to see an increase in the collector base. This number has been, and continues to increase because people have expanded their interests beyond the State Quarter program. Dealers tell us that many of them are simply amazed at how reasonable rare coins are priced. They find it hard to believe that a hundred-plus year old Silver Dollar can be bought in Uncirculated condition for only $25. One dealer said that it is a "shock" for them to learn just how inexpensive it is to buy some of these coins and once they start buying a few they are hooked. Next, they want to buy some of the scarcer dates of the series. Instantly, a new collector joins the ranks and demand increases its widening gap with supply. Key dates generate the largest need by most dealers. They are looking for key dates from many of the popular late 19th and early 20th century series. Some of the coins they want include the 1877 Indian Head Cents, 1909-S VDB and 1914-D Lincoln Cents; 1913-D and S Type II Buffalo Nickels and 1916 Standing Liberty Quarters. These dates and others remain on their buy lists for the new year. However other earlier Type coins are also in demand. Bust Dollars were very popular last year and that demand has carried over in 2003. Dealers are trying to buy Bust Dollars for their customers who want them. They are looking for problem-free examples in attractive, circulated condition from VG8 thru XF45. Higher grades are also needed. Still, dealers are having trouble finding and buying the coins that their customers need. Most dealers agree that they don't see this demand slowing down in 2003. Also, they expect 2003 to be an even better year as more new customers expand their horizons and become collectors. Consequently, the problems that dealers face trying to buy coins are expected to continue in the new year. Dealers are hoping to have success finding and buying coins at the Florida United Numismatists show and auctions in Orlando. This January 9-12 show begins with extremely high expectations. At the show, NGC will begin accepting GSA Dollar submissions. These popular issues will be graded by NGC and remain sealed in their original hard-plastic GSA holders. The assigned grade will be included on a tamper evident seal affixed to the orginal GSA holder.

The sight-unseen market is "real good," according to one dealer that we spoke with early in the week. He is basically happy with buying rare coins in the sight-unseen market as long as he buys coins graded by the professional grading services that he trusts. He told us that NGC and PCGS are the two services that he feels most comfortable with when buying. He said that "I've been real happy" with the overall quality of the coins that I have received sight-unseen. He is also looking to buy MS64 pre-1921 common date Morgan Dollars in quantity at the higher Bid of $35. NGC or PCGS examples are acceptable to him. Common date MS64 DMPL and MS65 DMPL Morgans are also up slightly this week. We know that it's not just the common dates because dealers tell us that Morgan Dollar keys and semi-keys are also desperately needed.

You know the market is strong when 5- and 6-figure sight-unseen Bids are seen increasing. This is the case this week for Proof $4 Flowing Hair Stellas. Increases are occurring for PR61 thru PR66 for NGC or PCGS examples. Despite the absence of plus signs, we also see solid sight-unseen Bids for Stellas graded by ANACS. Also, 1913 Type I Buffaloes in Proof are higher this week. Proof Washington Quarters from 1936-1942 are also beginning the new year on a positive note. Quality is important to Bidders as they are hoping to buy examples grading PR64 thru PR67. Mint State Gold is firm to higher as Gold bullion remains extremely volatile. Still, this volatility is a good sign as Gold continues to trade above $340 per ounce. While market strength remains dominate, some weakness is seen among Gold Commemoratives. Some of these issues made spectacular increases in 2002 and we may be seeing some profit taking.

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER newsletter

Gold On Fire At FUN
Matte Proof Buffaloes Move Higher

Early January auctions and the FUN show are indicating an exciting and positive market for 2003. Strong prices are being paid for coins at public auction and at the show. While we expected the Bids to be strong, we didn't expect them to be this exceptional. The two January auctions already in the books include the $4.1 million Superior Elite Coin auction held January 6 followed by the $5.2 million Bowers and Merena Rarities Sale on January 7. That's over $9 million in just two days! Both auctions were conducted prior to the Florida United Numismatists Show in Orlando. These two auctions provided the proof of what could happen if you offer buyers an opportunity to own the coins that they desperately want. Quality and rarity were showcased and the final hammer price provided the fireworks. We have listed a few of the many certified highlights from both these auctions (see inset).

Fireworks are also taking center stage in the bullion markets. Gold has managed to close above the important $350 per ounce mark once again. A wave of profit taking brought the price of Gold down the last two or three times that it crossed this level. This time, however, not as many sellers are in control and maybe Gold has found the support to be able to sustain this price. We'll have to wait and see what happens. In any event, $350 Gold is certainly a positive for the rare coin market. A greater amount of interest is generated because of it, as it directly and positively effects the collector base. Of course, the more immediate impact of this move in Gold is seen on our Gold Type charts. One major Florida dealer needs NGC Saints and has jumped the sight-unseen Bid $30 in MS62 to $422.

Early activity at the FUN show has been as expected, very strong and upbeat. Dealer set-up day was hectic and crowded. According to dealers at the show, Gold is the hottest segment of the market with $20 Saints and Libs jumping 5-10 percent in several grades. Some MS65 Saints are selling for $1,000. Nice coins are quick to sell on the bourse with at least one Gold coin changing hands at $80,000. While dealers holding the attractive rarities are smiling, others looking to buy know that acquiring them will be extremely challenging.

The overall sight-unseen market is shooting off fireworks of its own. Demand remains strong and Bids solid. Dealers are still increasing Bids in an effort to get a handle on their inventory deficiencies as well as buying the coins needed to fill want lists. Immediate orders allow them to bump-up Bids. Dealers are also willing to pay current levels to buy coins but not enough are being offered to satisfy the demand. This is the case where one dealer continues posting strong Bids for MS64 Morgan Dollars pre 1921 at $35. He is willing to take NGC or PCGS and while he has bought a few coins, he still needs more. Some increasing Bids are taking place as well. Matte Proof Buffaloes are experiencing a lot of strength. Similarly, business strike Buffaloes are also hot. The Proof Buffaloes from 1913-15 are loaded with plus signs this week. Buyers are looking for NGC and PCGS examples grading Proof 64 and better. At this state of preservation, this beautiful design looks spectacular. Another attractive design sporting some plus signs is the Walking Liberty Half Dollar. We see a few plus signs appearing for some of the early dates of the series.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www cdnpublications com

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Dealer Optimism Is Overflowing Strong Bids Needed To Stay Ahead

The rare coin market remains hot in mid January. Some dealers can't even remember when the market has been this strong! Dealers are enjoying the current bull market even though they must work harder to be successful. That's because the activity level is competitive, fast and furious and one needs to be ever vigilant to not buy the wrong coin. Mistakes on high grade level coins can prove to be extremely costly for the dealer or collector/investor, even if they are in a holder. Dealers who have been in the business for many years are amazed by the phenomenal prices realized for super grade modern coins. In some cases, dealers are trying to recommend that their clients not pay these high prices for extremely high quality "common" coins. Unfortunately, a few of them do not heed their expert opinions and advice. Instead, they continue to try to buy the "finest known" of a specific date for thousands of dollars even though they can get a "slightly" lower quality example for substantially less money. They should also consider how many uncertified coins are out there waiting to be graded. This new breed of buyer seems to have the mentality that buying and owning the best is the way to go, regardless of the numismatic significance. Therefore, what was not even thought of as rare coins a few years ago are today being purchased at prices that could be used to buy time proven major rarities.

Auctions are one quick way of measuring the volume taking place in this market. The strong activity in today's market is easily seen by the more than $26 million that changed hands in Orlando for U.S. coins alone. Buyers for select coins are very hungry today and supplies of this material is insufficient, and unable to meet the growing demand. Dealers are trying to maintain strong liquidity positions to be able to compete for these quality coins. Consequently, we do see some minus signs cropping up in the sight-unseen market. This is evident among Proof Type, Mint State Type, Commems, Proof Singles and other areas. Dealers are willing to sell less than average coins at a discount because having ready funds available, along with excellent credit is that important. Coins that appear to be less than average for the grade that they have been assigned are being discounted at auction. In some cases the discount is considerable. However, we continue to see coins selling below current sight-unseen Bids, leaving us shaking our heads. Obviously somebody is not paying attention and coming out on the short end of the stick.

Bidding for Gold in the sight-unseen market, in some cases, is as nuts as the volatility that's occurring on a regular day-to-day basis in the bullion market. One large Florida Gold dealer continues to post a strong, sight-unseen Bid of $434 for NGC MS62 $20 Saint-Gaudens with Motto examples. This strong sight-unseen offer to buy is only targeting NGC coins without a matching Bid for PCGS specimens. They are even willing to buy quantities of them at this level. Meanwhile, Gold bullion continues to enjoy support above $350, even threatening to break out of its recent $345-$355 trading range, settling Thursday January 16th at $357.70 in New York. As a result, new buyers continue to enter the market and add to the collector base.

Proof Type is mixed. Besides the discounting, Barber Quarters and Halves, Liberty Seated Dollars, Trade and Morgan Dollar Proofs are all receiving various sight-unseen Bid increases. Business strike Morgans continue to find Bidders willing to increase the ante for DMPLs. Bids are inching higher for MS64 and MS65 common dates. This slight increase follows last week's move up. Still, few examples are available to meet the growing demand. Key and semi-key dates continue to enjoy strong supporting Bids. A similar trend is developing in the Mercury Dime and Walking Liberty Half Dollar series. Supporting Bids are more numerous than in the recent past. Also, some Bid increases are targeting a few early Mercury Dimes. In addition, strong Bidding has also forced many increases among Franklin Half Dollars. Dealers are trying to stay ahead of game by buying series that may have been overlooked. New increases seen in these areas of the market give further credence to the perception that this bull market is broad-based.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www.cdnpublications.com

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight–unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER newsletter

CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market published by the Coin Dealer Newsletter (est. 1963)

Vol. XVIII No. 4 January 24, 2003 Single copy price $4.00

Sight-Unseen Bids Increase Sharply For Gold Walker Short-Set Moves Higher

Steadily increasing Gold prices have continued to supercharge virtually all segments of the rare coin market. Gold has cruised past $360 to settle in New York at 364.50 per ounce on January 23. Many analysts say that continued tension from a number of world conflicts that may lead to war is contributing to the publics need for an alternative for their money that they feel is safe. Coin dealers all around the country have noticed an increase in traffic to their stores and/or to their advertising. The market continues to be very active and very strong. Dealers tell us that more people are looking to buy Gold because they want some safety in an uncertain world. This safety is being achieved by the diversification of some of their funds. Many are new to numismatics and so they initially look to buy American and foreign Gold bullion coins. American Gold Eagles are very popular but some are also buying $20 Liberty and Saint-Gaudens coins as well. They are primarily looking to buy AU and better quality examples. It's not uncommon to soon see these new collectors spread-out into other areas of the numismatic market. Some start by building a 12-piece Type Gold set. They soon discover other designs and denominations that they like and start building a set from that particular series. Copper has been hot lately and provides a good entrance point for them. Flying Eagle, Indian and Lincoln Cents have attracted new buyers who readily identify with these coins. Seasoned buyers feel more comfortable buying Copper today because they have come to accept that many examples have tarnished. Copper coins that have nicely and naturally toned are much appreciated for their eye appeal.

The more sophisticated numismatic buyer is buying rare Gold. They are willing to stretch for coins because they believe that not as many collections will be coming to market in the near future. They are concerned about availability because they believe coins are staying in tighter hands these days. Gold has stimulated over-the-counter sales and it has also stimulated a lot more interest in alternative investments. Collectibles are back in fashion! Activity remains strong at coin shops, on the Internet, at shows and at public auction. The first two sessions of the January 21-23 Americana Sale are in the books from Stack's. Already, more than $3.2 million has been realized in New York City with this sale still in progress.

This market is moving fast and dealers turn toward the sight-unseen market because it allows them to buy and sell rare coins more quickly. When a dealer needs ready cash, discounting is a common path to take. Gold Commems have been the object of discounting this week. It's an easy decision as many dealers have profits in these coins and they provide ample funds when sold. Some look to "blow-out" coins so they have money available to buy coins in the areas where the action is greatest. This week dealers are especially looking to buy Gold Type, Proof Singles, Buffalo Nickels and Walking Liberty Half Dollars. The entire Walker series is finding solid Bidding but the short set dates are realizing sizzling Bid increases this week. High quality is preferred with dealers increasing Bid for MS65 and better examples. The short-set is popular with collectors because it's relatively affordable and easy to complete. Several higher sight-unseen Bids have been placed on MS67 Buffaloes with the hopes of some being created. Gold Type is selectively hot. As we have seen in the sight-seen market, strong increasing Bids are occurring for Type II $20 Libs in MS64 and MS65. That's because the pop numbers of certified coins are so relatively small (NGC and PCGS have graded a combined total of 57 in MS64 and only 4 in MS65) that most dealers know what to expect. A sharp 14 percent increase is also seen for $2.50 Libs in MS63. Increases are also appearing for MS61 thru MS63 $20 Saints and Libs. Proof Singles continue to remain in serious demand. Proof Washington Quarters from 1936 thru 1942 are up this week for both NGC and PCGS graded examples in PR64 and better condition.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (includes the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www.cdnpublications.com

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (*w*eek old); "m" Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (*m*onth old); "t" Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing *l*ast *m*onth; "lt" Trade appearing *l*ast month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" auction older than 1 month.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER newsletter

CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market published by the Coin Dealer Newsletter (est. 1963)

Vol. XVIII No. 5 January 31, 2003 Single copy price $4.00

A Fast Start For 2003 Sight-Unseen Market
Proof Gold, Gold Type & Gold Commems Wanted

January's results have provided an excellent beginning for the 2003 rare coin market. Strong Bids have translated into higher prices for rare coins. The thing that separates this bull market from past year's major upturns is the broad scope of demand. Many areas of the numismatic marketplace are enjoying and participating in this prosperity. The collector base is still growing as more people are becoming interested in rare coins. Initially, they may buy one or two bullion pieces or rare coins but time and again we see it quickly blossom into a more meaningful numismatic experience. However, considering the times that we live in today, this activity becomes almost predictable. The economy remains weak, more people are loosing faith in the stock market and world events that lead to an uncertain future are making front page news on a daily basis. People are left searching for answers. They are looking to areas that are prospering and may provide some hope in these uncertain times. Consequently we see that optimism for rare coins has become wide-spread. Dealers have had success no matter what specialty areas of the market they have been targeting. Of course, those dealers that are staying ahead of the game are wise to be involved in areas of the market that are among the hottest. We have already seen several dealers reverse course and switch into the modern coin areas that include Commemoratives and American Eagles. A few astute dealers who focused on this field early-on are quick to point out the potential of these modern Commemorative coins. They believe that several relatively scarce issues offer great potential. Some dealers have said that select issues are available at small premiums over melt and represent an excellent value. Quality is the key as dealers look to service that portion of demand that seeks the extremely high grades and finest known examples. A growing number of collector/investors are clamoring for Pop-Tops to add to their registry sets. The popularity of such endeavors has been increasing dramatically. People want the finest known example and it's coming from those that have very deep pockets. Consequently, unbelievable prices are being realized at auction and in private treatise for exceptionally high grade coins.

Gold has played a huge role this January in fueling the continued strength of the rare coin market generally, and the sight-unseen market specifically. We have seen the price of Gold bullion increase from $342.20 on January 3rd to the current settlement of $369.20 on January 30th. This represents a very healthy 7.89 percent gain for the month. Naturally, we have seen strong demand for circulated and Mint State Gold Type coins as well. The sight-unseen market is playing an active role in satisfying this demand with quickly completed transactions taking place. Demand is currently very strong for common date Type Gold. Strong Bids are becoming more numerous and many times they are sharply higher than previous Bids. $20 Liberty and Saint-Gaudens issues are extremely popular. Increases are found in various Mint State grades. A nice Bid jump is seen for MS67 Saints, now at $6,050. Interest has also spread to other Gold Type denominations. Plus signs are occurring throughout many areas of the Gold Type market. Proof Gold is also receiving attention. Increases are appearing for the ever popular $4 Flowing Hair Stella patterns. Keep in mind that this odd denomination is only available in Proof and is receiving five- and six-figure sight-unseen Bids. Gold Commems have also come alive again with jump Bids trying to capture some of these scarce issues. Select San Francisco and Denver MS67 Buffalo Nickels are receiving exceptionally strong sight-unseen Bids. These are basically fantasy Bids as these high grade certified Buffaloes currently do not exist. Proof Buffaloes are also doing well with plus signs seen for both NGC and PCGS examples. MS64 Morgan Dollars are targeted this week with plus signs. Dealers specializing in this area believe that many are undervalued compared to the MS65 grade. Generic Morgans and common date DMPL's are also increasing slightly.

Sight-Unseen Bids Jump February Begins With Volatility

We have been reporting about the increasing volatility in the rare coin market for several weeks now. This continues to be the case as we begin February. Dealers are trying to get a handle on the pace of the market as well as their immediate needs. Of course they try to fill their customer's want lists but they are also trying to beef-up their seriously depleted inventories. The biggest concern facing dealers today remains on the buying side of the market. They are searching for answers and utilizing all their options to find and buy the coins that they need. It seems that much of this increased activity is reflecting the increased volatility of Gold, and to a lesser degree, Silver. Gold has been the catalyst with a greater per dollar movement in its price per ounce occurring more frequently, both up and down. Analysts say that this beginning bull market in Gold is not for the faint-of-heart. Some analysts believe that Gold's increased volatility is due to speculators who aren't yet convinced that this is a bull market for Gold and that the price of Gold is headed much higher. However, our weak economy can also play havoc with the trust and strength of the U.S. Dollar, both here and abroad. The acceptance and strength of the Dollar are two of the keys to Gold's future. For many individuals, uncertainty has also played a role in their demand for Gold. Individuals that have lost faith in the stock market are looking to buy Gold as a hedge for some security. Speculation in the Gold market has been responsible for its greater volatility. For rare coin dealers it represents quicker decisions and the need to expedite orders, both buying and selling. Mistakes in this market atmosphere can prove to be very costly.

This first week of February has provided some results in the sight-unseen market that mirrors the volatility that we have seen in late January. Mint State Gold Type has been realizing a considerable amount of activity. Dealers have been facing a stronger demand for Gold from their customers. They also know that quantities are needed but supplies are not easily obtainable. Obviously they just need coins. Consequently, we have noticed that several sight-unseen Asks have been hit on the electronic dealer networks. These transactions don't happen often but the current strong need for Gold also doesn't happen often. Satisfying this customer demand hasn't been easy. If a dealer buys the coins at one price and offers them to his customer after Gold has dropped precipitously, then the problem becomes clear. We see that one major Florida Gold dealer has sharply increased Bid to $476 for MS62 NGC Saints. Saints have also increased to a lesser degree in grades MS64 and MS65. In addition, $10 Indians in MS65 have jumped for both NGC and PCGS examples. Several plus signs are also seen for select ANACS coins.

Many plus signs are appearing on our Morgan Dollar charts this week. Semi-keys, keys and common dates are all in demand. Increases are taking place in grades from MS61 thru MS66. Common dates have moved up again in MS66. Better dates are bought in whatever grade that's available. This is another example of the supreme and diverse need for coins. GSA Morgans are also facing extraordinary demand these days. Nearly every GSA Dollar, including the non CCs is up this week. We see that a promotion coinciding with the new Illinois Quarter has pushed Bid higher for the 1918 Lincoln-Illinois Commemorative Half Dollar.

Dealers are placing strong sight-unseen Bids in an effort to buy coins. It doesn't do them any good to post a Bid that goes unfulfilled. They are doing their best to buy coins and we see that jump Bids may be their ticket to success. Besides Gold Type, we are seeing a few jump Bids for Gold Commems, Red Indian Head Cents, Barber Halfs and Proof Shield Nickels. Increases are also appearing for late date Walkers and Proof Singles. Among Proof Singles, Lincoln Cents, early Jefferson Nickels and Washington Quarters are needed in PR64 and better.

Collector Coins Heat-Up
Registry Set Demand Propels Washington Quarters

The rare coin market continues to demonstrate remarkable strength, maintaining its "status quo" despite the wild activity occurring in the precious metals and with the uncertainties surrounding current world events. Dealers are very pleased with the present state of the coin market. They tell us that they see the same strong demand in the first two weeks of February that was in evidence during January. One dealer simply said that things are "still good." Several dealers believe that the hottest segment of the market is for coins that are available in the $500-$2,500 price range. These are basically collector coins and the demand for coins of this nature remains solid. Just look at the plus signs for 1909-S VDB Lincoln Cents this week. It's no wonder that dealers are actively pursuing collector coins for their customers. Collector coins cover a wide area of the market. One dealer pointed out that Bust coinage continues to be strong. However, he has noticed that some weakness is evident in AU and better Bust Dollars. Some dealers say that these issues are currently fully priced at this quality level. Dealers are also not as concerned about the sharp increases and decreases seen lately in Gold bullion. Of course, they know that higher Gold prices usually mean that the coin market is strengthened to some degree. This is due to the increased liquidity in the market. Dealers see the value of their inventory increase and when sold, they have more money to spend via aggressive Bidding. Buying in today's market has become key to the future success of each one's business.

The dealer-to-dealer sight-unseen market continues to heat-up as new players are beginning to use this medium to acquire modern high grade material needed for registry sets. Take a look at this week's Washington Quarter chart for a few examples of some serious Bid jumps. Several more sight-unseen Bids are seen for late date NGC Washington's grading MS67. These include: 1956-D at $550, 1961 at $750, 1961-D at $1,700 and 1962 at $190. Two new trading networks have recently come on board, doubling the amount of exchanges we have today. The two established networks, where the majority of sight-unseen trades take place are coinnet.com and certifiedcoinexchange.com. The newest trading networks are eurekatrading.com and dealersden.net. The sight-unseen market is also benefiting from the solid need for rare coins today. We see a whole host of supporting Bids taking place throughout this market. Dealers continue to post these Bids hoping to be hit so they can add some of these examples to their stock. Unfortunately, many are seeing their Bids go unfulfilled. We are still astonished by the number of coins selling in weekly internet auctions for levels well below current sight-unseen Bids. This is most prevalent in the Proof Singles and Walking Liberty Half Dollar segments.

As a series, Morgan Dollars continue to generate strong Bids. This week some of the collector dates in the lower Mint State grades are increasing, especially from the latter part of the series. Dealers are actively trying to buy because they have standing orders from customers that need to be filled. Generic DMPLs remain strong with NGC MS64 DMPLs moving higher again, following last month's increase. Peace Dollars are also attracting Bidders. Increases are seen for select, late dates of this short series in MS63 and MS64. Certainly this is more evidence that collector demand is at work. For example, the semi-keys 1927-D & S are receiving identical $188 Bids in MS63, still less than half the cost of the next higher grade. Mint State Gold Type is still strong, although the aggressive sight-unseen Bids for Saints have virtually disappeared in MS62. However, increased Bids for $2.50 and $10 Indian issues are reflecting this continued strong demand for Gold. NGC Proof Singles are realizing many plus signs. Buffalo Nickels and Washington Quarters are this week's target of Bidders.

Superior has scheduled their Pre-Long Beach Coin Auction to be held February 24-25 in Beverly Hills, California. We have listed a few of the certified highlights from that sale.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www.cdnpublications.com

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Elevated Sight-Unseen Bids For Morgans & Gold
1885 Trade Dollar Surfaces At Long Beach

This is a busy time of the year for many dealers. It is a time when collectors are very actively pursuing their hobby and dealers are doing their best to accommodate them. It is also a time when dealers make travel preparations for upcoming shows and auctions. There is a lot to do because it is an excellent, fast-moving market. January and the first half of February have been "extremely good" for dealers. Demand is solid and the collector base is growing. Optimism is still running high as astute dealers believe that this bull market is expected to "continue strongly through spring." Of course dealers qualify this belief by adding, "unless anything dramatically wrong happens domestically." The current strong market has been especially pleasing to dealers because it is "one of the most collector-driven markets" that has been seen for a long time. Many believe that this is also a "bottom-driven" market. Dealers are assisting new collectors as they begin their journey in rare coins by buying coins priced under $500. They are buying Franklin Half Dollars, Jefferson Nickels and Washington Quarters at first. After they get more interested and knowledgeable, they graduate to some of the more traditional and challenging areas of the market. Dealers are quick to credit this bottom-driven market to the Mint's circulating Commemorative Quarter program. It also doesn't hurt when new state releases, e.g., Tennessee and Kentucky turn out to be relatively scarce with strong Bids seen above face value. This generates more interest in rare coins and it just blossoms from there.

Many dealers are planning to attend the important Long Beach Expo in California February 27th thru May 2nd. Dealers will also be viewing many auction lots and taking advantage of the several auctions that will surround this show. Lot viewing takes time but for many dealers it is time well spent. Traditionally, the "metals get killed" during the course of this show but because Gold and Silver have already corrected, many hope things will be different this time. Also, dealers are "low" on coins and many are going to Long Beach to buy. It is still very hard to find nice coins and when found the price tags for these beauties are steep. Public attendance at the show is also expected to be strong despite recent gasoline price hikes. One attraction at the show will be the 3-day appearance of the finest of five known 1885 Trade Dollars. It has been 27 years (1976) since the Louis E. Eliasberg, Sr. specimen has last been seen on public display. Presently owned by Bruce Morelan, partner of Legend Numismatics, it is housed in an NGC holder and graded PR66.

The sight-unseen market is also very solid and active. The pace is such that it may cost you money if you are not paying close attention. We continue to see a few certified coins being offered for sale at prices that are below current sight-unseen Bids. Dealers that act quickly can benefit from this extremely volatile and active market, as well as from other's mistakes. The majority of interest and activity seen this week is for Morgan Dollars. The number of plus signs for slightly better dates are near record levels. Increased Bids are seen for a wide scope of dates and grades. Dealers have customer orders to fill and they need these coins desperately. Collectors are actively building sets and the MS63 and MS64 grades fit their budget's comfortably. Dealers are targeting many semi-key dates of the series too and it's not just the Carson City dates that are needed. New Orleans, San Francisco and Philadelphia Mint 1878 varieties are among those that are increasing. Most areas of the sight-unseen market continue to realize solid, supporting Bids. A strong sight-unseen jump Bid to $11,000 was posted for PCGS MS67 1924-S Standing Liberty Quarters. To date, none have received that lofty grade from PCGS while only three with that grade are found in NGC holders. Maybe this Bid will bring one to light. Gold is certainly among the most volatile areas of the market. Increases continue to be posted for select denominations. Of course, the $20 denomination has received more than its share of activity. Notice the large number of plus signs appearing on our Saint-Gaudens chart. Interest is seen from the most common specimens to the five-figure rarities. We also note that buyers are chasing all the Mint State grades we report from MS61 thru MS67.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www.cdnpublications.com

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

BOARD OF LADY MANAGERS

Before NCS

"In my twenty-five plus years as a professional numismatist, I have only witnessed a few industry-changing occurrences. Certification was one. NCS professional conservation is another. NCS is a tool that I now employ when making decisions on buying and selling coins. I strongly advise you to let NCS do the conservation work for you. Their work speaks for itself.

Kevin Lipton
Kevin Lipton Rare Coins, Beverly Hills, CA

"I chose NCS to evaluate and conserve a multi-nillion dollar collection of PCGS and NGC certified gold coins. NCS evaluted the entire collection and only conserved the coins that needed or would benefit from their efforts. My client and I are extremely pleased with the results.

BOARD OF LADY MANAGERS

"NCS knows what they can do and how to do it well. Perhaps even more importantly, they know what they can't do and do not do it. I'm very happy with the results I have seen. NCS, used judiciously, has a important place in the serious collector's approach to our hobby. I recommend them highly to anyone considering using their services"

Bob Rudd, ANA Member, Greenbelt, MD

The field of tokens and medals has seen enormous movement as a direct result of NCS conservation services and NGC grading. These have been significant factors in increased sales in my area of numismatics. It goes without saying that I have been more than pleased with their services.

Expo Living Up To Expectations Pre-Long Beach Sales Claim $9 Million

Early indications seem to confirm what most dealers said even before they arrived at the Long Beach Expo in Southern California. Expectations for this California show seem to be right on track. Optimism and activity were upbeat during the initial hours of the Expo on dealer set-up day, February 26. On February 27, PCGS announced that they will now grade Trade Dollars with chop marks by placing a "chop marked" designation on the slab label. At the Expo, business was being done as many dealers on the floor reported that transactions were readily taking place. One dealer that we spoke to said that he sold an 1893-S Morgan Dollar on opening day with ease. This key date was housed in an NGC MS65 holder and it traded in excess of $200,000. No doubt about it, interesting, fresh and exciting rare coins are quickly sold in today's market to very strong Bidders. One dealer said, "This is the market to sell all the good stuff that's been put away." Indeed, dealers are calling old customers trying to buy coins back from them at a profit. They need coins and so they are trying just about anything to get them.

Is this bull market being fueled by uncertainty? Most people today believe that it is to some degree. Uncertainty has become very much a part of the world we live in today. This uncertainty has a lot of investors nervous and willing to commit funds into areas that were not even considered just a few years ago. Rare coins have certainly benefited from this uncertainty. The nervous markets, sharply up one day and sharply down the next are added proof that investors are unsure which way to turn. The precious metals are caught in this sharply up and down cycle. Buyers of common date Gold and Silver coins need to protect themselves as best they can.

Many comments about the show pointed to the extreme need to buy coins. This situation has become exacerbated because of the strong demand for coins today from an ever increasing collector base. Dealers told us that they mainly came to Long Beach to buy coins. We know that coins are very easily sold on the bourse but buying coins to replenish one's inventory or to obtain a specific example for a good customer is very tough. It is tough because most dealers are trying to buy fresh coins. Supplies of this material remain extremely short and dealers are forced to compete at very strong levels for them.

The overall strength and positive nature of the market is easily seen by this week's sight-unseen Bidding activity. The need for coins continues to force dealers to increase Bid to improve their buying opportunities. Plus signs are found in many areas of the market. Morgan Dollars, Peace Dollars, Mint State Type, Gold Type, Walking Liberty Half Dollars and Silver Commemoratives are all highly sought-after. Dealers have upped the ante because they have customers waiting for coins. It's that simple. Interest in Peace Dollars was noticeably strong this week as it has been rather quiet for some time. However, this is a short series and a popular one that many can easily complete in the lower Mint State grades. Bidders are looking to buy coins in the middle to upper grades in most areas. These areas of the market are presently affordable to many entry level buyers. Still, there are a lot of collectors in this market also looking to add to their sets as well as up-grade.

Pre-Long Beach, California auctions combined for more than $9 million in two days. On February 24-25, Superior Galleries realized $4.8 million while Ira & Larry Goldberg Coins & Collectibles hammered down $4.4 million. Both sales did very well. We listed a few of the many certified highlights from each of them.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www.cdnpublications.com

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder In these cases a more accurate reflection of a coin s true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (*m*onth old); "t" - *T*rade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing *l*ast *m*onth; "lt" *T*rade appearing *l*ast month; "ot" *T*rade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

The Certified Coin Registry

The Registry offers a dynamic system for collectors to enjoy friendly competition while assembling remarkable collections. The Registry's fair, expert and numismatically accurate ranking system is truly unique. It accounts for several important factors including grade, rarity, population and the NGC "star" designation for exceptional eye appeal. Accepting coins from the two relevant grading services NGC and PCGS, the Certified Coin Registry is the most inclusive program of its kind. Visit Collectors-Society.com for more information.

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER newsletter

Money Targets Rare Coins
Proof Singles & GSA Dollars Increase

Some dealers are returning home after a rather successful trip to California. The Long Beach Expo, even with its pre-show super high expectations, has proved to be a successful one for most dealers. One dealer summed up what most believed when he said the market at Long Beach was "very strong." He saw high-end, certified and collector issues in strong demand. Quite a few dealers also participated in a number of auctions that were taking place before and during the show. Dealers have told us that their extreme need for rare coins continues as we begin March. This problem has been an ongoing battle that dealers have been fighting for more than a year now. The supply/demand imbalance continues to favor higher prices for rare coins. Dealers are finding themselves Bidding against each other as well as some collectors who are equally determined to buy coins. Of course, this specific demand is targeting those coins that today's sophisticated collectors are readily buying and putting away.

What's really amazing about the current demand is its wide range. We are seeing this strong demand targeting everything from five- and six-figure early coinage through our popular Modern Commemorative and American Eagle bullion coins. Dealers tell us that the there are a number of reasons why the scope of the demand is so broad today. One intuitive dealer said that it's the "trickle-up effect." Generally there is a lot of money around looking to buy coins. We know that a few years ago there was an even greater amount of money in people's hands due to the records that were being set on Wall Street. However with today's diminishing trust in corporations and equities, extremely low interest rates and a weak economic outlook being exacerbated by exploding oil prices, a lot of today's investor money is being repositioned. Besides real estate and a few other areas, some of this money is increasingly flowing into the rare coin market. Also we can't forget the precious metal's factor. When Gold and Silver bullion does well the rare coin market benefits. It's that simple! The public frequents small coin shops to buy precious metals. Lower-tier coin shop owners sell common date Circ and Uncirculated Gold and Silver at very profitable levels. In turn, they have extra cash and they buy what they know will sell easily. Better dates are bought along with low budget collector items. This demand and money flow helps keep the bull market alive and intact.

The sight-unseen market is also enjoying prosperity along with the general market. One trader said that, "The one nice thing is that I can buy and sell a lot of coins sight-unseen." Being able to buy and sell readily is a condition that is not often experienced. He said that coins are more liquid today and the "market's just fine." We are seeing many supporting sight-unseen Bids for a wide range of series. However, this week isn't chock-full-of plus signs as we have become used to seeing. The sight-unseen market may be consolidating and digesting many of those increases that have already taken place. Yet, we know that strong demand continues for coins on the electronic dealer trading networks. Silver Commems and Proof Singles are registering some plus signs. We also notice a greater interest for ANACS coins which is translating into plus signs. GSA Dollars remain hot with both "CC" and non "CC" examples moving up this week. Several dealers are regularly Bidding for these coins and now we see that a few new dealers are becoming rather regular at adding to the demand. Specialists in this field still believe that these coins are undervalued.

Stack's will conduct an auction of U.S. Gold, Silver and Copper Coins March 11-12 in New York. Bowers and Merena will host the Smith and Youngman auction March 13-15 in conjunction with the March 13-16 Baltimore Coin and Currency Convention. We have listed a few certified highlights from each auction.

Giant Sight-Unseen Bid Jumps Market Volatility Increases

It's on to Baltimore for many dealers. The March 14-16 Baltimore Coin & Currency Convention is in full swing with dealers buying and selling coins to meet the strong demand. This is normally one of the more hectic times of the year in the rare coin market. This situation is exacerbated when the market is very active or sharply moving up or down. We know that the market has been enjoying great success as prices and Bids have been moving higher for some time now. Add to this mix an extremely volatile precious metal's market and you have the makings of some wicked price swings. Dealers have been hard pressed to make some sense out the market concerning Bid levels. We live in really tough times today with the daily headlines reminding us of world turbulence. Our country is in the middle of fighting one war on terrorism and in the process of beginning another with Iraq. The economy is definitely sputtering with the price of gasoline surging and unemployment increasing. Dealers continue to point to the disenchantment experienced by many of today's collector/investors in the stock and bond markets. They see collector/investors entering the rare coin market for the first time as well as collectors just reentering the hobby after a long hiatus. Despite the times and business demands, dealers graciously welcome this influx and assist them through education. Also, they do their best to accommodate them with their numismatic needs, knowing that many of those needs are rather specialized.

Nervous and uncertain times produce a lot of volatility and this can easily be seen by using Gold spot as a barometer. The metals have fallen rather sharply from their recent robust levels of just a few short weeks ago. Coin dealers are concerned but they say that many of their customers are not dumping common date Gold and Silver coins. Instead, they have received a few calls from collectors that are using the current drop to buy and average their cost down. Despite the drop, most Gold levels found among Gold Type are being buoyed by supporting Bids and even some strong increases. A large Florida dealer has posted a strong sight-unseen Bid of $456 for PCGS MS62 with Motto Saints. They are even willing to buy in quantity at this aggressive level.

The sight-unseen market is a bit mixed this week. However, many signs of the solid strength that the market has depicted in the last few months are still in evidence today. Also, extreme volatility is in place in the sight-unseen market. A substantial $60,000 plus sight-unseen Bid increase is targeting any MS65 NGC or PCGS 1794-95 Flowing Hair Dollar. The new sight-unseen Bid is $150,000. A similar jump Bid has taken hold in the Washington Quarter series. One Bidder is posting a $3,000 Bid (up from $1,610) for 1934-D Washington Quarters in PCGS MS66, probably for a registry set builder. To date only 29 examples have received that lofty grade with none being slabbed in MS67 or better by this service. It's no wonder that Bids can gyrate dramatically trying to pry one loose for today's aggressive buyers. Today, PCGS announced that they will recognize Roosevelt Dimes with a Full Torch on the reverse by adding the FT designation to the slab label when appropriate. This will add to the challenge of those building registry sets of Dimes. Yet, we have seen some discounting occur in the general sight-unseen market. Proof and Mint State Type, Gold Type, Walkers, Commems and Morgan Dollars have suffered some discounting. This week's Gold Commem charts really depict the mixed nature of the market. On the one hand, discounting is evident as some coins have been blown-out at recent auctions in California. On the other hand, strong Bidding is targeting most Gold Commems in Mint State up to the MS63 level.

Meanwhile, Stack's auction of U.S. Gold, Silver and Copper Coins in New York brought approximately $1.2 million. We listed just a few of the certified highlights from that March 11-12 sale.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www.cdnpublications.com

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

But we're also highly interested in the real world, and that includes the 67 assorted silver dollars you've had for years, along with the Mercury dime set missing five dates, the 20 1964 Proof sets and the Trade dollar an ancestor brought back from the Orient. We're interested in hoards, accumulations, portfolios, specialty collections, and every other conceivable coin holding that you can think of.

We buy it NOW—Most transactions with Spectrum Numismatics are completed in less than 72 hours (start to finish) and many take place on the same day. If we need to come see you there's a major airport only minutes from our office. If we do the deal by mail, as we do in 80% of the cases, your coins will receive same-day attention upon their arrival. PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

$1 Gold Commems Perform Admirably Uncertainty Becoming A Market Factor

March continues its hectic pace with another major show in progress from March 20-23. The American Numismatic Association's National Money Show is in Charlotte, North Carolina with dealers actively buying and selling. This southeastern city is within easy reach of many collector/investors from the eastern part of the country. Dealers are eager to attend as they have want lists and inventory holes to fill. During the last couple of weeks some dealers have noticed a softening taking place in the coin market and a few believe that we may be entering a period of stagnation. They do, however, make the distinction that this weakness is specific to generic coins and does not apply to the rare and key date coins that continue to be the target of exceptional Bidding. This exceptional Bidding is being seen in select areas of the sight-unseen market, as well as in the sight-seen market.

The main culprit seen as the catalyst for this weakness is the price drop in Gold bullion. We know that the yellow metal has declined rather precipitously from its high, now trading in the $330s per ounce. As Gold dropped, a lot of sight-unseen Bids were being hit. Dealers have seen immediate declines in demand for generic certified Double Eagles. $20 Saints in MS63, MS64 and MS65 as well as $20 Libs in MS62, MS63 and MS64 have come down from their recent highs. A lot of the collector/investor money that was available for these coins dried-up. Many of these potential buyers are unsure what is going to happen in the immediate future. Dealers and others continue to point to the "U" word. Uncertainty is grasping all of us today and it's this feeling of insecurity that's making us behave more cautiously. People have become more cautious because of the political and economic turmoil that our country is facing. They are very concerned about the war with Iraq, including its duration and cost (both human and monetarily). As our freedoms become more limited, our lifestyles tend to change. People are more concerned about physical safety, for both themselves and their families.

This week's sight-unseen market is feeling the effect of these situations. We have seen generic Gold weaken and we have seen some discounting taking place. However, we also see that some areas of the market continue to receive strong, supporting sight-unseen Bids. We know that there are a lot of financially, well-heeled people out there looking for rare coins. Dealers are trying to fill want lists that have grown larger throughout the year. Also, inventory needs by dealers continue to be a major concern as they are hitting dangerously low levels. Still, select areas of the market continue to shine brightly. Gold Commemoratives, for the second week in a row, are realizing many gains. Dealers are increasing Bid for the lower Mint State grades from MS61 thru MS63. Our chart on the top 20 gainers in the Gold Commemorative series depicts the strong demand for Commemorative Gold Dollars. Gains up to 30 percent in less than three months is fantastic to say the least. There haven't been too many other investments that have fared as well in this same period. Standing Liberty Quarters are an area of the market that is demonstrating both strength and weakness. We see increases for common dates in MS64 and MS65; at the same time a few common date MS64, MS66 and MS67 Full Head issues are declining. However, key dates are still realizing exceptional demand. Sight-Unseen Bidding is targeting two keys in MS63 and MS64 condition, the popular 1916 and the 1918/17-S. They are looking for non Full Head examples but you better believe they would be more than pleased if they received those with the Full Head designations. We know that the overdate is nearly impossible to find in such a state of preservation. As for dated Saints, a jump Bid to $73,500 is hoping to pry loose a key date grading PCGS MS66. The 1932 issue is difficult to come by in MS66 condition with only eight graded by the combined population reports of PCGS and NGC with none graded higher to date.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www.cdnpublications.com

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

UNPRECEDENTED SIX-TIME NUMISMATIC LITERARY GUILD AWARD WINNER

Traditionally, learning a lesson in the rare coin market has been very expensive. You would buy a coin for $500, find out later that it was worth only $50, and, thus, you would have to pay $450 to learn just one lesson. But now, thanks to the fourth edition of The Coin Collector's Survival Manual™, by Scott A. Travers, you no longer have to pay a fortune to learn about how to buy and sell coins profitably.

This thoroughly revised edition examines the coin field from an insider's perspective and continues to break new ground in revealing the ins and outs of coin collecting and investing. Excellent photographs and detailed charts amplify the encyclopedic, clearly written, meticulously organized text. You'll learn about the following:

- How to look at coins the way the professionals do
- How to determine what a coin is worth and what grade the leading certification services would assign to it
- How to spot slight friction on otherwise "Gem" coins
- How to tell the difference between proof and prooflike
- How lighting affects appearance—and the latest in halogen flashlights
- Altered and counterfeit detection techniques
- How to judge price guide accuracy
- Selecting and testing a coin dealer

SPECIAL SECTIONS ON:

- Doctored coins, how to detect them, and the case of the doctored hoard of gold rarities that got slabbed
- The real truth about slab services "fixed grading standard" claims and premium quality coins
- Revelations from a leading coin trader
- A grading service founder's startling admission of modified grading standards
- The newest tax laws

- How not to get ripped off if you buy coins through the mail or over the Internet
- Profitable - and not-so-profitable - liquidation techniques
- How to buy and sell at conventions like the pros do
- How to spot a cleaned and artificially toned coin
- How to choose a non-destructive coin holder and safe—as well as the right storage method
- A review of some Internet web sites, with a legal analysis
- Requirements of the FTC telemarketing act
- The real facts behind the toning corrosion controversy

NEW information in the fourth edition:

- Courageous information about on-line auctions—no other numismatic author has ever been as bold in exposing Internet scams!
- A comparison of PCGS versus NGC—which service does the market really favor?
- Stunning exposé and bombshell interview on coin "doctoring"
- Special full-color section on artificially toned and doctored coins and much, much more!

Dealers Still Chasing Gold Commems, Walkers Off To Santa Clara

The rare coin market is still on solid ground with many dealers remaining upbeat about the current market and its prospects for the balance of the year. Dealers came away from Charlotte with mixed feelings. While several expressed their opinion that the show was slower than they expected, others were quite satisfied with their results. Many dealers said that they were able to sell coins rather easily. We know that quality and key date rare coins were selling for very strong money. Those dealers that came to Charlotte with a solid inventory and a selection of rarities were quick to reap the profit reward. Still, we know that many attend these major shows to buy coins. Today, this situation is most important as we have said that dealer's inventory levels have been decimated in recent weeks. Dealers were actively cruising the bourse in an effort to buy coins. One dealer told us that he purchased a Morgan Dollar key date in circulated condition for $150 more than current Bid. After the purchase he thought he may have made a mistake by paying too much. However, within an hour, he managed to resell that same coin wholesale for an additional $100 making his original buy a prudent one. Once again, we see how important it is to have key dates and quality rare coins for continued business success.

The American Numismatic Association's National Money Show in North Carolina did prove that this market is capable of supporting two major shows from one week to the next. This is a testament of the current market strength. However, one aspect of the market that was visibly slower than we have seen in previous weeks was common date Gold Type. Gold bullion has had a rather precipitous drop since it hit $390 per ounce only a few weeks ago. However, political circumstances surrounding the precious metal coupled with its meteoric rise left it extremely vulnerable to profit taking. Today it is trading around the $330 per ounce level. Dealers say that many of the people that were actively pursuing common date Gold coins have retreated. Sales of $20 Saints and Libs were noticeably slower in Charlotte. One trader simply said that, "Common date Gold softened because of (a lower) spot." However, this buyer also was encouraged by the lack of panic selling. She said, "They're just putting it away because they want a little bit of tangible assets (in their portfolios)." Optimistically, she also said that want lists continue to grow. Rare date Gold is another story. One expert said that, "Demand for nice branch Mint Gold is probably the best (that he's seen) since 1999." It seems that everything (in branch Mint Gold) is good except "S" Mint Gold other than $20 Libs. Strength is seen for Gold grading XF40 and better. Dealers will look to improve their positions when they hit the road again to attend the April 4-6 Santa Clara Coin, Stamp & Collectibles Expo in California.

The sight-unseen market this week is also on solid ground. The extreme need for coins today is the reason why dealers are becoming more aggressive in their Bidding for coins, both sight-seen and sight-unseen. Bold, aggressive Bidding is the rule when it comes to acquiring key dates today. We see yet another round of Bid increases targeting Commemorative Gold. Again, the lower Mint State grades are being increased from MS61 thru MS63. Some higher grade Gold Commems are being discounted. Also a few Silver Commems are increasing. Dealers want key date issues and they are increasing, sight-unseen. The shortage is magnified by the strong demand. We see higher Bids for better date Morgans in the $100-$1,000 range as collectors are waiting to buy. Still common date Morgans are weaker, moving lower in MS65 DMPL and MS66. Strong Bidding was evident this week for NGC MS65 and better Walkers in the 1930s. Semi-key dates are in demand and some of the increases are rather hefty.

We continue to see several coins selling at auction at levels well below current sight-unseen Bids. The amount of money consigners are loosing by not doing their homework just amazes us. The list to the left are just some of the many coins selling at less than 80% of current Bid. Recent auction prices realized are published on the fourth week of every month and can be found in the market column preceded by the 'a' symbol.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www.cdnpublications.com

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer–to–dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks sell lists, coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales–related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the *w*eek prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (*m*onth old); "t" - *T*rade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing *l*ast *m*onth; "lt" *T*rade appearing *l*ast month; "ot" *T*rade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight–unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Strong Market In Place As April Begins Key Date Buffaloes In Demand

April begins with dealers facing a period that requires much thought. Their plates are full and their business concerns are being addressed carefully. There is a lot of news taking place today and this information must be thoroughly digested if one is to succeed. Sound planning decisions are necessary to maintain business health. All markets react to events and circumstances to one degree or another. The war overseas is raging and Americans, understandably, remain very concerned. Questions about the cost of the war are being addressed in Washington DC, and of course the cost in terms of the individuals engaged in the conflict are priceless. The price of gasoline remains rather high at the pump even though the price of oil has declined on world markets. The stock market is still struggling and a lot of people are burdened by the post 9/11 era. Gold bullion is extremely volatile, dropping below $330 per ounce. One needs to stay on top of all this information if he or she expects to maximize profits. Understanding the deteriorating economic situation in America can help dealers prepare by making proper decisions to guide their businesses through a successful future.

Are those collector/investors that tendered want lists several months or even years ago still able to buy today? As costs increase, attitudes and priorities may change. Yet, dealers tell us that today's collector/investor demand for rare coins is very healthy and powerful. Despite the times, dealers see a continued increase in the collector base. We know that there are many well-heeled buyers out there that are virtually immune to economic worries. Those buyers are willing and able to wait for the right coin and buy it, even though it may cost them considerably more than when they made their initial inquiry. However, it's the bread-and-butter collectors that may be preoccupied by other matters.

For dealers, demand continues to vastly outstrip the supply of coins. Dealers have not been able to buy all the coins they need to satisfy their want lists, day-to-day needs and inventory level problem. However, dealers are extremely pleased with how easy it is to sell the coins that are in demand. We know how badly they want to buy coins because it is easily visible by their strong, persistent Bids, both in the sight-seen and the sight-unseen markets. PCGS is one example of the increasing demand as they have just graded their eighth millionth coin since opening in 1986.

Many areas of the sight-unseen market are enjoying prosperity and it's the strong demand that is getting and deserving the credit. Silver Commemoratives are the recipients of several plus signs. Dealers are trying to buy issues priced in the $100 to $1,500 range for their customers. The MS65 and MS66 grades are preferred. Many collectors are building 50-piece Silver Commem Type sets with their dealer's assistance. Regular increases are occurring in several series for "S" and "CC" Mintmarked issues. Exceptional demand also continues to be seen for GSA Dollars. Dealers are increasing Bid on all "CC" issues. NGC authenticating and grading of these coins in their original holders has definitely become a factor in today's demand. Non "CC" GSA Dollars are also increasing and benefiting from this new service. Weaker Gold prices have taken the steam out of the Gold Type market. Coins are still readily changing hands, but at lower levels than we saw last month. The Double Eagles, naturally, are the most volatile. However, supporting Bids are still in place for most areas of Gold Type. We even notice that Bid jumped a bit for High Relief Saints in MS61 this week. Proof Type is rather active with increasing Bids popping-up in several areas of this market. Quality PR65 thru PR67 examples are the grades of choice. Huge sight-unseen Bid jumps are prominently seen this week for key date Buffalo Nickels in high grades. Dealers are actively trying to buy select rare dates that are desperately needed for clients. Supplies are extremely thin with pop numbers only in the single digits for many of these dates. Plus signs are also frequenting our Walking Liberty Half Dollar charts. This popular design and denomination is continuing to receive Bid increases for MS65 and better examples. Buyers want these coins in quantity.

CERTIFIED COIN DEALER newsletter

CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market published by the Coin Dealer Newsletter (est. 1963)

Vol. XVIII No. 15 | April 11, 2003 | Single copy price $4.00

Bids Might Be Sending A Message
Walkers & Morgans Lead The Market

The sight-unseen market may be sending a message to rare coin enthusiasts. Those people that have put away rare coins in collections or as individual rarities for an indefinite period may want to rethink their position. Originally, many wealthy individuals were buying coins to put some money away because they were disillusioned and disgruntled over their stock market and other financial investments. They saw rare coins as a store of value, a safe haven from the losses taking place in our financial markets. Uncertainty was prevalent nationwide and our economy was on the ropes. A lot of these rare coin purchases were to provide some protection and solace in a financially, politically turbulent world. They weren't even as interested in buying coins solely as an investment. However, those coins have appreciated in value far more than those buyers could have imagined. Of course, many of them may not even realize how well their coins are doing or have performed because they just put them away for long term purposes. Still dealers know a lot of these coins are out there and they want them back very badly. Will today's strong Bidding entice some of these individuals to sell? Many dealers hope it will.

Strong Bidding is seen throughout the sight-unseen market with dealers willing to make a strong statement about their needs. Rare coins remain in short supply when compared to current demand. Knowledge of this imbalance is leaving dealers little alternative but to increase their Bids on a consistent basis. Some are even willing to aggressively increase their Bids hoping that the sharp percentage increases will surprise holders of coins enough to consider their resale. In the meantime dealers continue to buy the coins that they are able to find. Many of the plus signs that are evident this week are defining the serious need for select coins that dealers continue to experience. The demand is targeting a wide range of coins from common dates to rare examples. Morgan Dollars are receiving many increased and supporting Bids this week. Slight Bid increases are seen for NGC and PCGS MS63 thru MS66 common dates. Increases are also occurring for NGC and PCGS MS63-MS65 Prooflike common dates. Keep in mind that the sheer quantity of common date Morgans available can make even slight sight-unseen increases an important factor for those dealers that have large quantities. Common date Peace Dollars in NGC MS65 got a slight boost as well. Several Buffalo Nickel common to slightly better dates increased this week. Quality is important as MS65 is the grade of choice for all the Nickel increases. Mint State and Proof Type remain solid with many supporting Bids. The exception is Mint State Type Gold. Decreases in this area are reflective of the weaker Gold bullion prices, especially the $20 denomination. Plus signs are numerous among Walking Liberty Half Dollars and the Classic Commemorative series. Walkers are exploding with interest, but particularly those dated 1934 thru 1940-S. Bidders are looking for quality with increases seen in grades MS65 thru MS67. The post 1940 portion of the series is mixed with some issues being discounted. Gold Commemoratives are continuing the trend that began March 14 with plus signs targeting the lower Mint State grades from MS61-MS63 nearly every week. Dealers need these coins and since their demand wasn't satisfied after previous increases, we see another round of Bid jumps. Silver Commems are also active and receiving higher Bids for NGC and PCGS examples.

The Elite Coin & Fine Jewelry Auction held April 4-5 in Santa Clara realized $956,000. This Superior Galleries auction was held in conjunction with the California show. We listed a few of the certified highlights.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels. www.cdnpublications.com

Explore All Avenues To Maximize Profits
Morgan Dollars Sport Impressive Gains

Many rare coin dealers that we talk with admit that the market has slowed somewhat since the war began in Iraq. They say that the war, initially, consumed a majority of the attention of the public. Individually, they have noticed slight declines in their overall sales in March and early April compared to the first part of the year. However, they still point out that their overall sales have been greater this year than compared to last year for the same period. The slowdown doesn't come as a complete surprise to all of them. That's because most of them have expected slight decreases at this time of year as income taxes are due. They know that many of their customers become preoccupied with this unpleasant requirement of our government at this time. Still, the dealers have customer want lists to fill and a shortage of nice coins in their depleted inventory to rectify. Despite the slowdown, dealers have told us that things are beginning to pick-up again.

Many of them also agree that market volatility during this period has been increasing. Gold bullion swings have added to the increased volatility of Mint State Gold issues. Yet, this increase in volatility can cost a business money if they don't thoroughly and carefully examine all their options. Up until a few weeks ago we would make four or five calls per month alerting dealers that they are selling coins below current sight-unseen Bid. Now we find ourselves making four to five calls per week. The market is moving faster and one needs to explore all avenues before setting an Asking price that is too low. The majority of these sight-unseen Bids are found on the electronic trading networks including: coinnet.com, eurekatrading.com and certifiedcoinexchange.com. Consequently, it behooves each business to look beyond their immediate group of buyers so they can better maximize their profits from sales. This week alone, we have seen several dealers listing certified coins for wholesale resale at levels well below active sight-unseen Bids. This kind of mistake may cost a dealer from $5 to $100 or more on a single coin. Yet, if you multiply that mistake by the number of times it may take place throughout the year, you can quickly and easily imagine why greater attention to all possible options needs to be explored.

The sight-unseen market is generally doing very well despite some areas of discounting. We have seen dealers more willing to post increase Bids for select rare coins. We have even been rather amazed at the overall aggressiveness of dealers in their pursuit of select coins. One area of the market that has received exceptional and sustained demand throughout the year is Morgan Dollars. This demand has been extremely diverse in nature. It is being directed at both common and rare dates. Carson City Morgans have certainly received more than their share of this demand. However, we also want to note that strong demand has been chasing scarce "S" Mint semi-key and key dates as well. DMPLs are still receiving exceptional demand but dealers are still unable to buy all they need, even at the higher Bid levels. The chart below clearly points out the strong percentage gains. When you compare these rates of increase to other financial rates during the same period you will find that Morgans have performed surprisingly well. This week, we are even seeing some activity among Peace Dollars. Increases are appearing for select semi-keys of the series in the MS63 grade. At the MS63 level, this series is very affordable and relatively easy to complete. However the sight-unseen market is not only for inexpensive rare coins. This week, sight-unseen Bid has increased for 1879 $4 Flowing Hair Stellas in PR61 and PR62. Both of these 5-figure Bids demonstrate the power and diversity in the sight-unseen market. Common date Gold is probably the weakest segment of the market. The decline in Gold bullion has been the culprit. As Gold declines, coins that are intrinsically sensitive are most affected. We also want to point out that many holders of Gold are not willingly selling at these levels. However the interest for these coins has definitely slowed.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Collector Psychology Improving Demand For Coins Stays Strong In May

Last week we said some dealers believe that the rare coin market is slowing down somewhat. While many dealers have acknowledged a slight slowdown or some stabilization has occurred, others have said that the market is only taking a brief respite. One astute dealer said that today's collector psychology is improving and that has a lot to do with the present, and future rare coin business. While the war with Iraq was raging, uncertainty existed about its duration and cost to America. Yet, dealers noticed very little change in the buying habits of collector/investors chasing the high-end material. However that was not the case for those mid-range collector/investors. Those that spend $500-$2,500 on select, certified rare coins were more concerned about their jobs and daily living and curtailed their coin buying. Dealers saw hesitation in buying coins and an attitude that made them not as willing to commit. It is interesting to point out that even though these buyers stayed on the sidelines they weren't worried enough to sell their coins. They were just waiting for better times. Now that the war has been officially declared over, at least the fighting aspect of it, most Americans are less tense and feel more inclined to resume a more normal life-style. Dealers tell us that these mid-range buyers are now slowly reentering the market. One said, "Things are definitely improving." Besides the improving psychology of buyers, Gold bullion has shown signs of definite improvement as well. After dropping to approximately the $320 per ounce level, it has increased steadily to its current $334 per ounce plateau. As Gold improves, more general interest in our market will be among its benefits. We know that increasing precious metal values are good for the market. Unfortunately the economy is still less than robust, but declining oil prices have given us hope that things are doing somewhat better in that department. These improving areas help our market because they carry a lot of weight in people's consideration of buying rare coins. Consequently, many dealers are more optimistic today, than just a few weeks ago about the upcoming Central States Numismatic Society Anniversary Convention in St. Louis. Dealers are anticipating a good show for this early May 1-4 market test. Heritage will conduct a Signature Sale auction May 1-3 in conjunction with the show.

The overall sight-unseen market may be characterized as just holding its ground. We do see some discounting taking place in several areas of the market. Some Morgan and Peace Dollars; Gold, Mint State and Proof Type; Gold Commemoratives; Mercury Dimes; and, Proof Singles are displaying a few minus signs. However, this discounting is mainly from dealers selling some stale coins to free-up some cash to buy other coins. The underlying, solid Bid support is clearly seen throughout the market. Dealers are actively seeking to buy rare coins and more than willing to post many supporting Bids to secure them. We also see that some dealers are increasing Bid, just another sign of the underlying market strength. The demand for select coins continues strong as we begin May. Want lists are still growing and these needs equate to future sales. This is an encouraging sign for dealers and the market. The hunt for fresh and quality material continues. Dealers will be actively trying to satisfy some of this demand in St. Louis. They know how difficult is to find select coins, but it isn't impossible.

This week Proof Type is displaying some plus signs. Bid has increased for NGC and PCGS PR67 Red Indian Head Cents. This is directly related to the demand targeting the high-end of the market that we alluded to earlier. Buyers for this outstanding quality material seem to always be available. Interest is also strong for NGC PR66 and PR67 Type I Buffalo Nickels. Many collector/investors participate in building Type sets and most of them cherish owning an outstanding Proof example of the popular Buffalo Nickel series. Besides the discounting, select Silver Commems are enjoying some plus signs that's associated with strong demand. The MS66 grade is hot with 1953 and 1954 Washington Carver Half Dollar PDS sets needed. Also, 1936 Norfolk, Wisconsin and York County Maine Halves are being Bid higher in MS66.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (*w*eek old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (*m*onth old); "t" - *T*rade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing *l*ast *m*onth; "lt" *T*rade appearing *l*ast month; "ot" *T*rade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market published by the Coin Dealer Newsletter (est. 1963)

Vol. XVIII No. 18 May 2, 2003 Single copy price $4.00

Short-Set Walkers Needed In Quality Grades Better Date Morgans Inch Higher

Last week we reported that the collector psychology was improving and that it was a positive development for the overall rare coin market. Since that time, the consumer confidence index figures were released in New York, giving validation to the improvement theory. The index realized a sharp increase, the largest jump in two years, that was much better than even the most optimistic analysts had expected. Most analysts credit the short and successful end to combat in Iraq for the impressive April index result. Economists are excited because they know that greater consumer confidence can often lead to more consumer spending which benefits our economy.

The timing of this release is also an advantage for the May 1-4 Central States Numismatic Society Anniversary Convention in St. Louis. Dealers hope that the increased confidence will entice more potential collectors to buy coins instead of just kicking tires. Besides the index, Gold bullion has made a nice recovery from its recent lower levels. As of this writing, Gold has cracked through the $340 per ounce level. Silver has also surged. We know that higher precious metal prices usually create an atmosphere that's more conducive to buying rare coins. Many dealers believe that Gold is still in the beginning stages of a bull market that could only add to the strength that we are experiencing in the rare coin market.

The sight-unseen market is continuing to take its cue from the sight-seen market. It continues to prosper with a steady weekly stream of increasing Bids for select coins. Just when you think that the market might correct, another round of increased sight-unseen Bids are posted for an individual series on the electronic trading networks. The powerful demand for rare coins continues to eclipse the supply. It's that simple! While this situation continues to exist, the market will continue to move higher. We know that dealers still need to buy rare coins. That is not an unusual or difficult statement to make as dealers are always looking to buy coins. Some dealers believe that the current need may not be as strong as we have seen earlier in the year. Some dealers have even told us that they are managing to satisfy their customer needs rather well. Others have not been as successful. It all depends upon the specific rare coin or coins that one is looking to buy and how much their customer is willing to spend. For example, those dealers that are helping customers complete registry sets know how difficult obtaining those top-pop coins can be.

At a quick glance, this week's sight-unseen market may be rather deceiving. There are a few minus signs from some discounting taking place. Also, the lack of a large number of plus signs doesn't tell the whole story. There are many supporting Bids being posted daily by dealers helping to keep the certified market on solid ground. Walking Liberty Half Dollars are leading the market this week. Dealers are targeting the short-set dates in a big way. Some sizable jumps are seen as dealers are looking to buy NGC and PCGS examples from 1941 thru the end of the series. Quality Halves are what's in demand as MS65 thru MS67 are the grades receiving the plus signs. Increased attention has been focused on upgrading late date Walkers that are high end for the grade. See the chart below for some sizable gains to be had by obtaining the next higher grade. High-end, big-money material is usually more immune to the drops that may be experienced by the middle grade ranges of the market. It's no surprise that increases are occurring for 1879 Flowing Hair Stellas in Proof 61 and PR62. Stellas have been the beneficiary of strong demand for some time now. Still, increases for this high-priced item points to the underlying demand for exceptionally rare, expensive and desirable coins. Morgan Dollars continue to excel, generating strong Bids and interest. Dealers are still in need of the better date Morgans and they are not shy when it comes to spending more money to obtain them. DMPL issues received the lion's share of the Bid increases this time. However, increases for semi-key San Francisco Mint Dollars were also quite evident. Many of these dates are still missing from collectors working on this challenging series.
